Susan began the trip by explaining the purpose of the visit. Citing historical documents that referenced the Trail, and educating the committee on some of the work the town has done in the area. She went on to show the committee some of the areas of concern she had found, and introduced the new park located at the corner of N. Corbin and 13th St. She then explained the various projects to improve the high-traffic portions of the Trail for tourists and locals. The group walked in Pinos Altos Creek from the Fire Station to The Commons and then on surface streets to the footbridge in the neighborhood known as Shady Grove and from there on surface streets back to the City Hall Annex Building.
